Pedagogical training

As part of Erasmus+ “Forests, Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation: Higher Education Cooperation in Mekong Region (FRAME)” project; University of Helsinki in cooperation with partner institutions in Thailand (Chiang Mai University and Kasetsart University) and Laos (Savannakhet University and Souphanouvong University) will organize an online pedagogical training to improve pedagogical skills of teachers in partner institutions.

Lecturer: Adjunct Prof. Dr. Jani Holopainen, University of Helsinki, Finland.

Training dates and time: 17th August, 2021 (2-4pm Thai/Lao time), 25th August, 2021 (2-4pm Thai/Lao time) and 31st of August, 2021 (2-4pm Thai/Lao time)

Number of participants: 28 (maximum 7 participants from each partner institution in Laos and Thailand)

Goals: The goals of the trainings are that participants learn to—

- plan a course as a coherent entity
- plan and apply teaching methods that activate and engage students
- apply teaching methods that promote students generic skills and working life competences
- develop teaching together with other teachers
- become more aware of own teaching practices and make plans for developing own teacher expertise.

Prospective participants please register at: <https://forms.office.com/r/EGGp1nU4rC>

The deadline of registration is 12.08.2021 and the selected participants will be informed on 13.08.2021

We are committed to provide equal opportunity to both male and female teachers. Therefore, we encourage qualified female teachers to apply for the training
